Grass-Fed Beef

We are now taking reservations for bulk orders of grass-fed beef for delivery in the fall of 2018. We expect to take cattle to the butcher in batches between September and November. If you have a preference of which month you would like to take delivery, please indicate here. We will honor these as closely as we can.

Preferred Delivery Month:

Side of Beef, $6.50 per pound (on the hanging weight)

The first option for bulk ordering beef is a whole side of beef, custom cut, for $6.50 per pound on the hanging weight. The yield of meat, bones and fat will be 30-40 percent less than hanging weight, depending on how the cut sheet is filled in. For example: a 250-lb side of beef would cost $1,625. It would yield about 170 pounds and require about 9 cubic feet of freezer space. The deposit to reserve a side is $600 and the final balance will be due at delivery.

The second option for bulk ordering beef is a beef sampler package, containing approximately 16 packages of ground beef, two rib steaks, two NY strip steaks, one package of tenderloin medallions, one sirloin steak, one chuck roast, one round roast, 1 package of stew meat, 2 packages of soup shank, and 2 packages of short ribs. It will require about 2 cubic feet of freezer space. The deposit to reserve a sampler package is $150. The balance will be due at delivery in the fall and will be calculated based on the weight received.

Note: All our beef is dry-aged 12 days, then cut and flash-frozen.
